FOREWORD

It is a long and beautiful springtime which now draws to its close, and a much prolonged flowering period has been nearly unmarred except for the battering storm that the daffodils took at the very peak of their season. Making up for that bit of disappointment, the irises have been more free of their bounty than for at least a decade past. I was repeatedly surprised by the way several quite old neglected beds, which should have been built over years ago, burgeoned like second-year plantings. Some irises that I had previously given up for lost, including my lovely TEMECULA, unexpectedly reappeared in the plantings and will in due course be offered again. One local lady who had purchased three rhizomes of the iris DAYSRING from me the previous May had 18 splendid stalks of bloom from them in this their first season—a quite unbelievable sight!

This was a season which served greatly to emphasize the usefulness and winsome charm of some of the smaller bearded irises. I have introduced four which come in this class, CHEERY, TAFFY, TOURMALINE, and WISTFUL. These are all soft blends of rather unusual coloring, are crisply crimped or ruffled in varying degree, are floriferous, and are wholly delightful either as clumps for the front of the border or as flowers for the house, being far superior for this purpose to most of the larger sorts. Most of them are particularly lovely under artificial light. In mass the dusty pink effect of TOURMALINE is nearer to a true rose than anything else I have tried and groups beautifully with a clear blue like PERLADONNA. CHEERY is sharper in hue and sparked by a yellow throat, while in WISTFUL the yellow is more evenly shot through the flower. Who fails to try these is missing something of a treat. A grouping of real distinction either for a special corner in the garden or a strategically placed bowl indoors results from using the very late iris PRIDE OF REDLANDS with the fine single rose DAINTY BESS. The maroon fall of the iris closely matches and accents the stamens of the rose, the petals of which afford a subtle yet wholly pleasing contrast.

I have been raising seedling daffodils for many years and have been getting some nice things, but in my heavy soil the accumulation of stocks sufficient for registration and distribution is a slow business. By next season however I hope to be able to commence formal introduction of a few carefully chosen clones. This year I content myself with the introduction of four lovely irises, and an attractive Scilla. These and other varieties now listed by me for the first time are prefixed in the following pages by an asterisk (*).

I am always glad to make up special collections on order, where the customer is undecided how best to choose for himself, giving due attention where possible to color preferences and to whether it is intended to cover a long season or plant for a period of shorter but more abundant bloom.

When it comes to daffodils and similar bulbs it is apparent that I cannot too often repeat the emphatic admonition, ORDER EARLY! Not only will you find that you are well repaid by early planting of your bulbs, but you will stand a better chance of getting what you want. Except where I receive advance orders I can not possibly get more than a small fraction of my bulbs dug in any given year, while furthermore stocks of some varieties are so limited anyway that any sort of a run quickly exhausts them. You may rely on my filling your order as specified and to the best of my ability as long as a good bulb remains available, but if your order MUST be late it is only fair to me to list a few second choices. PLEASE be good enough to do this. There may be some who will be interested in a concluding word that I still have a small remaining stock of many of my old catalogues. People often ask for these, and I will be glad to mail a series of them to anyone who cares enough to send me ten or fifteen cents in stamps to cover postage.

NEW INTRODUCTIONS FOR 1945

*CANDLEBEAM (1945)—This very smoothly finished straw-yellow self flowers with the intermediates, its well-branched stems maintaining the floral succession for a long period; delightful for the front of the border; 28 in. It comes from a cross of Colonial on a Colonial-Argentina seedling which has been quite fruitful of yellows.....$10.00

*KAWEAH (1945)—This rather somber but richly arrayed dark bicolor is a sib of Monhegan and came from intercrossing two sister seedlings derived from Acropolis by King Tut; it is a very different thing from Ukiah but in the same color-group; flower large and spreading; very late; 3 ft.$15.00

*LILAC CHARM (1945) — Of hybrid-pallida type, with beautifully formed, crisply ruffled, medium-sized flowers; S. Mathews' Purple, F. Petunia Violet, in effect a clear deep lilac self without venation; in its color class quite the loveliest thing for cutting that I know; 3 ft.....$15.00

*MORNING SKY (1945)—A seedling from Dayspring by Moongold, this large well-branched yellow and lavender blend provides a mass of softly glowing color in the late garden; although its segments are on the narrow side, it is nevertheless an exquisite thing; 3 ft.....$15.00

EASTERN CUSTOMERS WILL FIND OUR ABILITY TO SHIP BOTH IRISES AND DAFFODILS BY EARLY SUMMER AN INESTIMABLE ADVANTAGE, GIVING THE PLANTS AN EXTRA LONG PERIOD OF ROOT-GROWTH BEFORE THE ONSET OF WINTER.

Our garden is not a large one, nor grandly landscaped, but it contains its full quota of rare and interesting plants, and those who will but remember that it is simply a horticultural workshop and do not expect too much of it otherwise, are always welcome visitors. In addition to our innumerable daffodils and irises, which form a collection not easily surpassed, we grow various species of Moraea and Nerine, a very fair array of freesias and Hemerocallis, and divers odds and ends of small bulbs, rock plants, peonies, herbs and other perennials. Late spring and early summer and again the fall are in general the most favorable times to secure stock for planting, but to view the flowers our spring months are best, February and March for daffodils and April to May for irises. Do not, however, look for any signboard at the garden beyond the street-number, for even at the cost of some business, we are devoted believers in the slogan,
